MARIMBA NANDAYAPA PERFORMANCE AT MEXICAN PAVILION AND GLOBAL COMMON 2

Mexican Pavilion is glad to introduce Marimba Nandayapa Performance at Mexican Pavilion and Global Common 2, during May 1st to May 8th, 2005.

Also, we can enjoy them at Expo Plaza, on May 5th (Thursday) and 6th (Friday), 12:30 to 13:30hs.

The Marimba is a wooden traditional musical instrument, with resonators below the keys. The instrument is played with soft beaters and it produces a very special and unique sound. Right now the marimba is considered the traditional instrument of the southeast of Mexico, specially the state of Chiapas.

Grand Master Nandayapa has performed in countless times at the most well known concert halls of Europe, Asia, United States of America and Latin American countries and have been playing together with his sons unforgettable performings as the Royal Philharmonia of London, as well as at the Carnegie Hall of New York.. Also, it has more than 70 recordings including some made by the French Audivis and Japan King Records.

Marimba Nandayapa have been awarded by institutions such as UNESCO, European Excellency Committee, in Mexico the National Art and the Peace Medal by the United Nations.

We're sure, you're going to enjoy the highlight performance at 2005 Expo Aichi.
