

Ethnic Wedding Show at the Singapore Pavilion

The Singapore Pavilion will be holding an Ethnic Wedding Show on Sunday, 21 Aug 2005 at 15:30. Four couples selected from a general application drive will participate in the show hosted by Singapore-groomed singer Sachiyo, who will do a commentary on the unique features of each of the four ethnic weddings.

We would like to invite media coverage on the ethnic wedding show.

The details as follows:

- Date and Time: 21. August 2005 (Sunday) 15:30 to 16:00
- Place: The Grand Staircase at Singapore Pavilion

* As such, there would be no daily performance show on 21 Aug 2005 at 15:30

Background Information

Singapore is a multi-racial society with four main ethnic groups, namely Chinese, Malay, Indian, Eurasians and others. Included among others is Peranakan, a hybrid culture from the inter-marriage between Chinese and native Malays. The Ethnic Wedding Show will showcase the different wedding customs of the three ethnic groups as well as Peranakan and feature each couple in each of the four ethnic wedding costumes. The event's host, Sachiyo, would do a commentary on the unique features of each of the four ethnic weddings.

Sponsor: Singapore Airlines, Orient-Express Hotels JAPAN

Sachiyo Profile

Sachiyo was born in Tokyo and grew up in Singapore. She worked as a model in her childhood and appeared in various advertisements.

Sachiyo studied Jazz and music theory in a vocal training school.

After graduation, She has been performing in Jazz clubs, live houses, and also participated a number of musical events in Tokyo. She has started to compose, write lyrics of her original songs and arranges traditional Singapore Malay and Chinese songs as well. The performance of her clear and receptive voice shall heal listeners and multi-linguistic songs are accepted favorably by Asian people across the countries.

