

ARGENTINE PAVILION

“Satellite Art Digital Exhibition”

-Satellite Images-

By Santiago Espeche

September will be the month on which Argentine Pavilion will host a unique, different and interesting work, done by Mr. Santiago Espeche, a young multicultural personality, specialized in digital art work using satelital images.

His art work has been showed at different times and places.

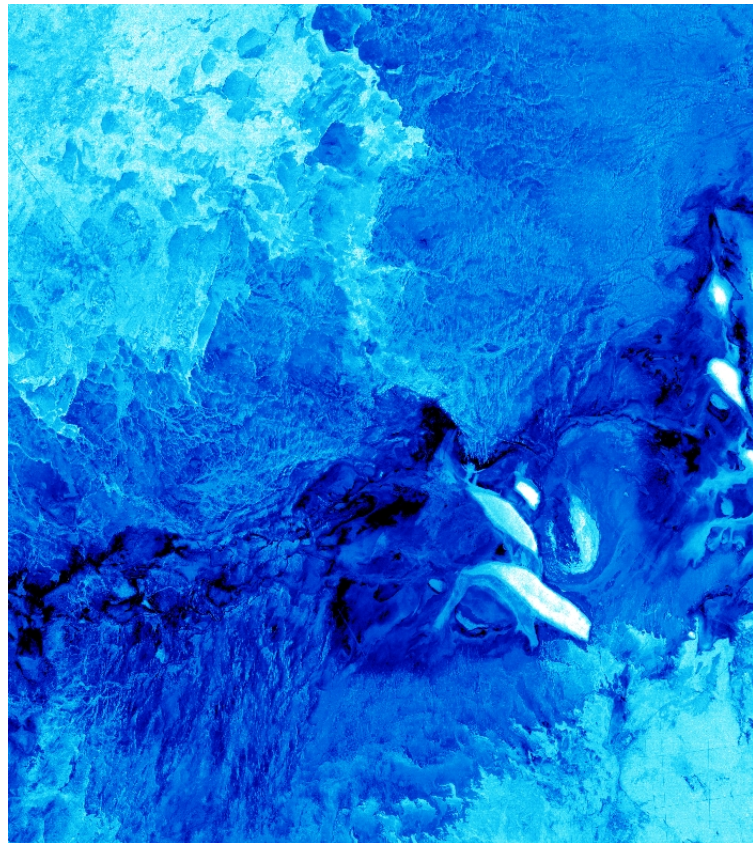

In countries such as Argentina and Italy, just to mention a couple.

The technique uses satellite images and, using pc and special software, he converts them into unique pieces with special colors and shades.

Nowadays, Mr. Espeche shares with all people visiting EXPO 2005, Aichi Japan, a part of his job: “The Romance of Nature”

Planet earth presents us, lakes with elephant forms and islands with eye shapes or simply frames that make us sigh.

Dancing Whales

Man has been wise enough to create an instrument to observe it from far, and nature's Wisdom gratefully answers back with its beauty and infinite pieces.

Argentine Pavilion invites you to enjoy every day this digital video and discover the world with another point of view.
